

The Health & Beauty Industry is Growing

The health and beauty industry has grown tremendously in North America and is still evolving with climate, health and welfare conscious consumers leading the way. With organic, vegan, environmentally conscious manufacturing on the rise, we understand the current trends in manufacturing and imports of personal hygiene, cosmetics, natural products and pharmaceuticals. We know QA Directors, Sales Managers, Social media influencers, Laboratory technicians that help attain your objectives. You need recruiters that understand the nuances of the Health & Beauty sector and will deliver people - not just to fill a position, but help your business grow.

Proforce Personnel knows these people.
We've been talking to them for years. That's our business.
